So, when you're passionate about service, you know it. You breathe it. You live it, because you live to improve the lives of others. "Service", is the spine of our business. This is what we are built on, and around. Our service is what keeps us walking tall and standing proud. We serve differently. We serve with heart. And it's the heart of our business that sets us apart. We love what we do and we love who we are: world-class beauty professionals that care. We don't have customers. We have guests. We do not deep sleep, we leave that for the day spas. We don't do boring. We're all about energy and synergy. And paying that feeling of fabulous
